Description

While using Retrascope IDE Configurator menu, engines that generate output file can be selected (like test-xml-printer, which generates test.xml file by default).
But if the full path to the output file is not specified, the Retrascope IDE saves output file to the ECLIPSE_HOME folder. Which causes an error, for example, in Windows 7 OS, where Eclipse IDE can be installed to the protected-for-writing folder like C:\Program Files.
